

The pictures were taken at the former C&NW Appleton depot. This is what the railroad looks like now on the former C&NW at Appleton, Wisconsin. The train on the left is the 523 job, the local out of Neenah that works the Kaukauna industries. 523 is stopped in front of the depot waiting for a proceed signal at CTC Appleton, where they leave track warrant territory and enter the CTC, which will take them southbound back to Neenah with 28 cars after completing the day's work. The engines on the right are tied up on the yard lead. Photos taken in August 2012, by Dennis Eggert.
